Dealer notes

Slide into this white 2020 Honda Civic Sedan and you'll remember why the Civic is such a go-to: its easy to live with, fun when the road opens up, and built for everyday adventures. Under the hood, a 2.0L i-VTEC 4-cylinder pairs with a smooth automatic CVT, and when you're feeling a little more hands-on, paddle shifters and a driver-selectable mode let you dial in the vibe. Front-wheel drive, a composed suspension, and confident 4-wheel disc brakes help keep things steady whether you're commuting, carving through traffic, or cruising out of town. Inside, the black cloth cabin is simple, comfortable, and smartly laid out—think supportive front buckets, a 60/40 fold-down rear seat for those wait, that fits? cargo moments, and automatic air conditioning to keep everyone happy. The leather/metal-look steering wheel puts key controls right where you want them, including cruise control and Adaptive Cruise Control with Low-Speed Follow for calmer highway miles. You'll also appreciate the back-up camera when it's time to slip into tight parking spots, plus peace-of-mind tech like Collision Mitigation Braking. And when you're ready to dig into the details, a CARFAX report is available for this Civic.
