Dealer notes

If you are searching for a midsize truck that seamlessly blends rugged capability with everyday refinement, this 2023 Honda Ridgeline RTL AWD is the perfect choice. Finished in a sleek Modern Steel Metallic exterior, this versatile pickup commands attention on the road while offering a premium look that fits in anywhere from the worksite to a weekend getaway. Inside, the spacious cabin features a sophisticated Black interior designed for maximum comfort and durability, making every drive an upscale experience. For buyers who refuse to compromise between utility and passenger comfort, this Ridgeline RTL delivers the ultimate dual-purpose driving experience. Under the hood, the 2023 Honda Ridgeline RTL AWD is powered by a robust 3.5L 6-cylinder engine that delivers smooth, responsive acceleration and the dependable horsepower needed for hauling and towing. Coupled with Honda's advanced All Wheel Drive system, this truck provides exceptional traction and stability across diverse terrain and changing weather conditions. Designed with truck-specific utility in mind, it features the innovative dual-action tailgate and a lockable In-Bed Trunk®, providing versatile cargo options that traditional pickups simply cannot match. Whether you are navigating daily commutes or embarking on outdoor adventures, this powertrain and drivetrain combination ensures a confident and capable ride. As part of the highly desirable RTL trim, this model comes equipped with premium standard features that elevate your daily drive, including heated front seats, leather-trimmed upholstery, and a power moonroof to let the outside in. Safety is also a priority, with the standard Honda Sensing® suite of driver-assistive technologies offering peace of mind on every journey. This 2023 Honda Ridgeline RTL AWD in Modern Steel Metallic represents the ideal combination of truck utility, SUV comfort, and legendary Honda reliability. Don't miss your chance to own a versatile, premium pickup that is ready to tackle your next adventure in style—schedule your test drive today.
