Dealer notes

Zoom Classic Cars presents a true 1964 Chevrolet Impala SS 2-Door Hardtop, VIN 41447T225002, finished in white over a striking red and white vinyl interior. Representing one of Chevrolet's most recognizable full-size performance models of the 1960s, this Impala SS presents extremely well and combines classic styling, V8 power, automatic transmission convenience, and the authentic SS identity collectors look for. The car has been owned by its current owner for approximately seven years and has always been garaged. It is now stored in Maine and is accompanied by a clean, transferable Maine registration. The 1964 model year occupies an important place in Chevrolet history. The Impala had become Chevrolet's top-selling full-size line and was firmly established as one of America's most popular automobiles. The Impala SS gave buyers a more sporting alternative, combining full-size comfort with performance-oriented styling and available V8 power. For 1964, Chevrolet's full-size lineup received a clean and distinctive redesign, with the Impala SS standing out through its sport-oriented trim and equipment. The combination of full-size proportions, crisp mid-1960s styling, available V8 power, and the SS designation has made these cars enduring favorites among Chevrolet collectors. Under the hood is a 327 cubic-inch Chevrolet V8 rated at 300 horsepower, coupled to a rebuilt Powerglide automatic transmission. The engine's top end was rebuilt in 2021, with documentation of the work accompanying the car. The engine is currently fitted with a 350-cubic-inch Chevrolet block, while retaining the 327/300 HP-style performance configuration described for the car. The engine and transmission work has been followed by only approximately 1,500 miles of driving by the current owner. Additional mechanical features include: Front disc brakes and Dual exhaust with Chrome exhaust tips exiting through the rear. The white exterior is in overall excellent condition and presents beautifully. The body is straight, solid and well cared for, with excellent panel fit and alignment throughout. The doors, hood, trunk and other body panels line up nicely. The paint remains very attractive, with only minor imperfections noted on the hood and trunk. All of the Chevrolet exterior trim and badging is intact, with the chrome and stainless-steel trim in excellent condition. Factory SS hubcaps mounted with whitewall tires. Inside, the car features a highly attractive red and white vinyl interior that complements the white exterior exceptionally well. The cabin retains its period character, including the AM radio, while presenting in overall excellent condition. The interior is further complemented by carpet floor mats featuring SS flag logos, adding an appropriate finishing touch and reinforcing the car's Super Sport identity. The trunk is clean, well-presented and properly equipped, including a full-size spare tire and the accompanying factory-style jack equipment. This is an especially nice detail for an enthusiast or collector, as the trunk retains the useful equipment expected of a properly equipped vintage Chevrolet. The underside is another strong point of this Impala. The undercarriage is clean, solid and shows no evidence of rust, providing an excellent foundation for continued enjoyment and preservation. The addition of front disc brakes provides a meaningful improvement in stopping performance while maintaining the car's classic character. The car retains the distinctive visual character that made the 1964 Impala SS such an important part of Chevrolet's performance history. The sale also includes an additional set of headlights with their accompanying chrome trim and Chevrolet emblem, along with various extra parts. An extra set of redline tires is also included. This very attractive 1964 Impala SS offers the right combination of classic Chevrolet styling, V8 performance, recent documented mechanical work and desirable SS presentation. With its excellent body, intact chrome and trim, clean undercarriage, attractive red-and-white interior, SS-logo mats, and properly equipped trunk, this Impala is ready to be enjoyed by its next owner.
