Dealer notes

The 2017 Ford Fusion Sport AWD is a performance-focused midsize sedan that combines strong twin-turbo V6 power, all-wheel drive confidence, and everyday practicality. Powered by a 2.7-liter EcoBoost V6 producing 325 horsepower and 350 lb-ft of torque, this Fusion Sport delivers quick acceleration and plenty of passing power while maintaining the comfort and usability expected from a four-door sedan. Paired with an automatic transmission and all-wheel drive, it offers confident traction and composed handling in a variety of driving conditions. With 128,021 miles, this Fusion continues to offer an appealing mix of performance, comfort, and daily usability. The Sport trim gives the Fusion a more aggressive personality than the standard model, with a stronger powertrain and a more performance-oriented driving feel. Its spacious four-door layout provides practical passenger room and trunk space, making it easy to live with as a daily driver while still offering considerably more power than the typical midsize sedan. Combining 325 horsepower, all-wheel drive capability, sleek styling, and everyday comfort, the 2017 Ford Fusion Sport is a distinctive choice for drivers looking for a practical sedan with genuine performance.
