Dealer notes

This brown 2019 Chevrolet Silverado 1500 is the kind of used truck that looks ready for work Monday morning and adventure by Friday night. Under the hood, a strong 5.3L V8 teams up with an automatic transmission to deliver confident power, while smart fuel management helps balance muscle with efficiency when you're just cruising around town. With 4WD and a Z71-style off-road setup that adds extra ground clearance, skid plates, and hill-friendly control, it's built for dirt roads, job sites, and getting to that campsite that easy access vehicles don't reach. When it's time to bring the toys along, the trailering gear and hitch guidance make lining up and hauling feel far less like a chore. Inside, you'll find a black leather cabin with a leather-wrapped steering wheel, easy-to-use driver info display, and everyday conveniences like remote start and cruise control. The bed is designed to be genuinely useful, with tough construction, tie-down points for securing cargo, and lighting to keep you productive after the sun goes down. Want extra peace of mind? A CARFAX report is available for this Silverado so you can check out its history before you hit the road (or the trail).
