Dealer notes

The 2019 Ford Expedition XLT 4x2 stands out as a compelling option for those in need of a spacious and reliable full-size SUV. Equipped with a robust 3.5-liter V6 engine, it offers a seamless blend of power and efficiency, making it capable of handling both highway cruising and everyday family commutes with ease. The vehicle's exterior showcases a bold and commanding presence with its refined style, which is complemented by practical features such as LED lighting and a distinctive chrome grille. Inside, the Expedition XLT 4x2 provides a generous and comfortable cabin atmosphere, designed to accommodate up to eight passengers across three rows of seating. The interior is thoughtfully appointed with high-quality materials and offers advanced technology features, such as the SYNC 3 infotainment system, which includes Apple CarPlay and Android Auto compatibility. An abundance of cargo space ensures that this SUV is well-prepared for both everyday activities and long road trips, offering versatility in storage with split-folding rear seats to further enhance its practicality. Safety is a priority in the 2019 Expedition XLT 4x2, featuring an array of driver-assistance technologies that contribute to a reassuring driving experience. Key safety features include a rearview camera, rear parking sensors, and the Ford Co-Pilot360 suite, which incorporates systems like blind-spot monitoring and lane-keeping assist. Overall, the 2019 Ford Expedition XLT 4x2 is a well-rounded choice for families or individuals seeking an SUV that combines rugged capability with modern conveniences and safety-driven technologies.
