Combining Toyota's legendary sports-car heritage with modern German-engineered turbocharged performance, the fifth-generation GR Supra delivers exhilarating acceleration, precise handling, and unmistakable styling. Under the hood sits the celebrated 3.0-liter B58 turbocharged inline-six producing 382 factory horsepower and 368 lb-ft of torque, paired with a responsive 8-speed automatic transmission and rear-wheel drive. This particular example has been enhanced with approximately $10,000 invested in premium performance, cosmetic, and carbon fiber upgrades, creating a distinctive and aggressive appearance while complementing the Supra's impressive factory engineering. The engine bay features an upgraded aluminum intake, aluminum charge pipe, and BMR oil catch can, providing a performance-focused collection of under-hood enhancements. A Tomei Expreme Ti full exhaust system delivers an aggressive soundtrack that complements the turbocharged B58 engine's character. The exterior is further enhanced with a striking carbon fiber rear wing and carbon fiber mirror caps, creating an unmistakable motorsport-inspired appearance. A set of ESR CS8 wheels adds to the vehicle's aggressive stance and distinctive styling. Inside, the Black leather cabin features a carbon fiber steering wheel, adding a premium performance-oriented touch to the already driver-focused cockpit. A ceramic coating completes the vehicle's exterior finishing package, helping enhance gloss and protect the beautiful Absolute Zero White paint. The desirable 3.0 Premium trim delivers additional comfort and technology, including heated leather sport seats, a Head-Up Display, navigation, JBL premium audio, and Apple CarPlay compatibility.
