Dealer notes

The 2016 Buick Enclave Premium AWD arrives with no accidents reported on CARFAX and a documented service history, and it wears that background the way people who buy Buicks wear everything: quietly, confidently, without needing to announce it. The 3.6L Variable Valve Timing V6 with Spark Ignition Direct Injection channels power through all four wheels with the kind of smooth, unhurried authority that makes Illinois highway driving feel effortless, and the AWD system works transparently in the background so winter conditions stop being a factor in your plans. White Frost Tricoat over Light Titanium, a power moonroof, chromed roof rack side rails, articulating HID Xenon projector headlamps with chromed bezels, and a stainless-steel dual-outlet exhaust integrated into the rear fascia give this Enclave a presence on the road that still reads premium, not dated. Settle into the Light Titanium interior and the Premium trim delivers on every expectation. Tri-zone automatic climate control with individual settings for the driver, right front passenger, and rear occupants means nobody in any row negotiates over the temperature. A premium sound system with rear seat audio controls, satellite radio, WiFi hotspot, a backup camera, and an adjustable steering wheel create a daily environment where every detail has been considered. Solar-Ray deep-tinted glass on the rear sides, quarter panels, and liftgate keeps the cabin cool and private, while the power liftgate and three rows of genuine seating space make this the kind of SUV that handles real family logistics without asking for any sacrifices. The Enclave Premium's reputation for long-term comfort and quiet ride quality is well established, and a documented service history on a clean-accident unit at this price point is the kind of value proposition that buyers who have cross-shopped this segment recognize immediately. WiFi hotspot, premium audio, AWD, and HID headlamps in a three-row luxury SUV at this mileage and this price is a combination that does not sit on the market long once the right buyer finds it. Stop by Carlux in Waukegan and discover for yourself why the Enclave Premium still earns its keep across Chicagoland.
