Dealer notes

If you are searching for a full-size SUV that effortlessly combines commanding road presence with everyday practicality, this 2016 Ford Expedition 2WD 4dr XL is an outstanding choice. Dressed in a sophisticated Magnetic Metallic exterior, this vehicle delivers a sleek, modern aesthetic that looks at home on both city streets and open highways. Inside, the welcoming Dune interior cabin provides a comfortable and spacious environment, making this highly capable vehicle an ideal option for families, group travel, or commercial operations seeking an adaptable and dependable ride. Under the hood, this 2016 Ford Expedition is powered by the advanced 3.5L EcoBoost V6 engine, offering the robust horsepower and torque required for demanding tasks. Engineered for superior utility and hauling, this 2WD model comes equipped with the heavy-duty trailer-tow package and a limited slip rear differential featuring a 3.73 axle ratio to ensure confident towing performance and reliable traction. Rounding out its mechanical specifications is the integrated California emissions system, ensuring compliant operation without compromising the SUV's impressive powertrain capability. Enhancing its everyday utility, this XL trim comes equipped with the fleet convenience package, adding practical features that streamline daily operation and driver convenience. The interior's Dune color scheme highlights a functional cabin designed around passenger comfort and generous cargo versatility. With its potent turbocharged V6 engine, enhanced towing capabilities, and refined styling, this 2016 Ford Expedition 2WD 4dr XL represents a smart, high-value investment for buyers looking for a versatile and hardworking full-size SUV.
