With just over 7,000 miles, this Cadillac remains an extremely fresh, low-mileage example. Why This XT5 Stands Out The combination of Sport trim, AWD, the 3.6L V6, extremely low mileage, and premium option packages makes this a particularly desirable XT5 configuration. Rather than a base luxury crossover, this example is loaded with the technology and driver-assistance equipment buyers typically look for in a premium Cadillac. Most importantly, its rebuilt-title history allows it to be priced extremely competitively in the current market, giving buyers an opportunity to own a nearly new, fully loaded Cadillac for significantly less than comparable alternatives.
