Dealer notes

This 2016 GMC Sierra 2500HD Denali is a heavy-duty diesel truck with the capability and comfort you expect from the Denali lineup. Finished in Gray with a Black leather interior, it is powered by the proven 6.6L Duramax diesel and paired with an Allison automatic transmission. With 180,000 miles, this truck has been used as intended and does show some normal wear, but it remains a solid, dependable truck that is ready to keep working. The Denali package gives you a great combination of capability and luxury, including heated and cooled leather front seats, power seats, sunroof, backup camera, premium audio, touchscreen infotainment, Bluetooth, steering-wheel controls, dual-zone climate control, and more. If you're looking for a Duramax-powered 2500HD that offers serious towing and hauling capability along with the comfort of a Denali, this Sierra is worth a look. It has some cosmetic wear consistent with its mileage, but it is a good, reliable truck with plenty of life left.
