Dealer notes

2006 Ford F-550 Western Hauler crew cab 4x4. This unit was the top-of-the-line, “Mack Daddy” truck you could buy in 2006, and it’s pre-DEF and DPF. It is loaded from head to tow, with an extremely clean history and very reasonable miles on the Power Stroke turbo diesel engine. The truck is in excellent condition, featuring upgraded two-tone leather seating, an aluminum hauler body with abundant storage boxes, and both fifth-wheel and gooseneck provisions. The gooseneck system is included, and we may also have a fifth-wheel hitch available from a similar truck. It is equipped with a heavy-duty tagalong rear hitch, traction tires all the way around, 19.5-inch alloy wheels, and a Haldex/Hendrickson-style air ride/bag system. Additional features include a billet grille, brush bar, windshield brow visor, and fiberglass side steps. This ultimate tow rig is exceptionally rust-free—arguably 100% rust-free—with clean door bottoms, rockers, and cab corners showing no signs of corrosion. A truck like this would easily exceed six figures to replicate today, yet this ready-to-go unit is available for a fraction of that cost, offering long-term durability with easier and less expensive maintenance.
