Dealer notes

This Ford F-350 Super Duty van is equipped with a Versalift bucket system and powered by the reliable 5.4L engine, making it an ideal choice for utility and service work. Outfitted with practical features such as power windows, power door locks, a backup camera, and a power inverter that provides electricity both inside the van and up in the bucket, it is designed for maximum convenience and functionality on the job. The Versalift, model VANTEL 29N-01, offers a 29-foot platform height with a 350-pound weight capacity, allowing operators to safely handle a wide range of elevated tasks. Well-suited for electrical, telecom, signage, and general maintenance work, this unit combines the versatility of a service van with the efficiency of an integrated lift system. Bucket vans of this type are increasingly difficult to find, especially in ready-to-work condition, making this an excellent opportunity for contractors and service professionals.
