Dealer notes

This 2009 Ford Bullitt Mustang wears its Dark Highland Green Metallic paint over a black leather interior, and it carries a legacy worth knowing. The Bullitt edition was built in 2001 and again in 2008/9 as a tribute to the 1968 fastback made famous by Steve McQueen, star of one of the most iconic car chase scenes ever put on film. This example is #6155 of just 6,582 Highland Green Bullitts ever produced, making it a genuine piece of a limited run. The paint does show some deep water spots in a few areas, but overall still holds a nice shine. Backing it up is a clean Carfax with no accidents on record, and the 75K miles are confirmed actual. Under the hood sits the 4.6L V8, mated to a 5-speed manual for a true driver's experience. Inside, the seats remain in good shape, a clear sign this Mustang has been cared for over the years. It's equipped with power steering, power brakes, power locks, power windows, remote entry, power mirrors, a power driver's seat, the Shaker 500 stereo system, cruise control, a tilt wheel, and cold A/C. Few Mustangs carry the same collector appeal as a Bullitt, and this one is ready for its next chapter-whether that's a garage full of collectibles or a driveway belonging to someone who loves to drive.
