Dealer notes

Offered for sale is this 2019 Porsche 911 Carrera S Cabriolet, finished in Paint-To-Sample Voodoo Blue over a black leather interior with a black fabric convertible top, powered by a 3.0-liter twin turbocharged flat six-cylinder engine, running power to the rear wheels through a 7-speed PDK dual clutch automated transmission, with under 19,543 miles on the odometer. This "991.2" example of the 911, the refreshed model of this generation, saw Porsche switch to a twin turbo configuration for the Carrera's engine. In the "S" specification, it produces 420hp and 368 foot-pounds of torque, with flexible power anywhere in the rev range. 911's are excellent cabriolets, thanks to their rigid construction and innate grand touring capability. They are cossetting and quiet when desired, but great fun on a winding road - especially with the top down, for maximum sun and flat-six sound. As familiar as the 911 is, it always manages to feel special as a Grand Touring sports car, with both comfort and exciting ability when called upon. This example of the 911 is a sweet spot, with flexible power and quick pace highlighted by great specifications. The paint to sample Voodoo Blue was a $11,340 option, a bright non-metallic shade that stands out. Options include the Sport package with Sport Chrono, rear axle steering, Sport Exhaust system, Bose Surround, and the GT Sport steering wheel, and the Premium package including LED Dynamic lighting, and heated and ventilated 14-way power seat
