Dealer notes

For truck enthusiasts and hard workers seeking uncompromising capability, this 2009 Ford Super Duty F-250 SRW Lariat stands as a testament to American utility and strength. Finished in a clean Oxford White Clearcoat, this heavy-duty pickup combines the legendary ruggedness of Ford's Super Duty lineup with the upscale presence of the premium Lariat trim. Featuring the sought-after 4WD Crew Cab 156" configuration, it offers the ideal balance of commanding road presence, expansive passenger space, and robust utility, making it a highly desirable choice for anyone demanding a dependable workhorse that doesn't compromise on style. Under the hood lies the powerhouse of this beast: the formidable 6.4L OHV V8 Turbo-Diesel Power Stroke engine. This high-output 8-cylinder powerplant is engineered for heavy-duty towing tasks and high-payload hauling, delivering the massive low-end torque required to pull heavy trailers with ease. Paired with an engaging manual transmission, this truck offers a level of direct driver control and mechanical connection that is increasingly rare in the modern truck market. Backed by a robust Four Wheel Drive (4WD) drivetrain, this F-250 is fully equipped to maintain traction and composure whether navigating muddy job sites, slick winter highways, or rugged off-road trails. Inside, the spacious Crew Cab cabin ensures your passengers enjoy generous legroom and premium comfort, showcasing the upscale refinement that defines the Lariat trim. The interior layout is designed to serve as both a mobile office and a comfortable long-haul cruiser, blending durable, high-quality materials with intuitive controls. Combining the raw towing capability of the Power Stroke diesel, the tactile control of a manual gearbox, and the elevated comfort of the Lariat package, this 2009 Ford Super Duty F-250 SRW is the ultimate tool for those who demand maximum utility and enduring performance.
