Dealer notes

This 2007 International 7300 4x4 Altec bucket truck is a rugged, dependable pre-emissions workhorse powered by the legendary DT466 diesel, eliminating any concerns with DPF or DEF systems. It is equipped with an Altec AA755L bucket and boom assembly featuring an impressive 56-foot platform height and a 700-pound, two-man bucket, making it ideal for utility, storm response, and infrastructure work. The truck is fitted with functional outriggers and support platforms, upgraded alloy wheels, and six nearly new Firestone tires, giving it both stability on the job and confidence on the road. While the unit is not yet detailed due to current weather conditions, it will be fully cleaned prior to sale. The interior is clean, mileage is very reasonable for its class, and all major features appear to operate properly. This truck was recently driven at highway speeds with no issues and has been freshly serviced and inspected. With true four-wheel-drive capability, this is an ice-storm-ready, hurricane-response, all-terrain bucket truck you can rely on when conditions are at their worst. We currently have multiple bucket trucks in stock in a variety of configurations and working heights ranging from 35 feet and up, making this a strong opportunity to secure the right unit for your specific needs.
