We want to be extremely transparent because this particular Cadillac tends to confuse customers when they see the history report. Originally an Indiana vehicle Always serviced regularly at Cadillac dealership Around 32,000 miles, the vehicle received a total-loss insurance claim HOWEVER: Carfax reports only MINOR damage AutoCheck also reports MINOR damage There was NO major collision listed No structural/ frame damage No significant accident history The reason the insurance company totaled the vehicle came down to an insurance write-off decision, not because of severe physical damage. In some situations, insurance companies total vehicles due to: Repair cost calculations Parts pricing/availability Liability decisions Cosmetic damage estimates relative to vehicle value We have: ' p Before photos available ' p Full Carfax available ' p State inspection documentation available The vehicle was then: Professionally repaired Inspected and certified by the State of Michigan Sold by us back in 2023 to a loyal customer That customer then drove the vehicle approximately 47,000 miles after repairs, which is a HUGE positive sign for reliability and quality. The vehicle was recently traded back in after the owner upgraded to a Cadillac CT5-V Blackwing. 'jp The fact that it has been driven tens of thousands of miles post-repair with no issues should give buyers excellent peace of mind.
