Dealer notes

Few automobiles capture the spirit of 1950s America quite like the 1955 Chevrolet Bel Air, and this striking red and white example delivers the timeless styling that has made the '55 Chevy one of the most recognizable and desirable classics ever produced. Finished in a beautiful two-tone red and white exterior, this Bel Air showcases the unmistakable chrome, sweeping body lines, and bold front-end styling that launched Chevrolet's legendary Tri-Five era. The exterior is complemented perfectly by a coordinating red and white interior, creating a classic presentation from every angle. 350Ci with Headman Headers This Bel Air is equipped with an automatic transmission, making it an enjoyable and comfortable classic for cruising, local shows, or weekend drives. The odometer currently displays 24,897 miles. Its stance is enhanced by a set of American Racing wheels wrapped in Cooper Cobra Radial G/T tires, giving the car a tasteful combination of vintage character and muscular street presence. Inside, the cabin retains its classic 1950s atmosphere while incorporating a few carefully selected upgrades. An aftermarket JVC stereo provides modern audio convenience; importantly, the original radio accompanies the vehicle, allowing the next owner to retain this important original component. An under-dash/console-mounted tachometer provides an additional performance-inspired touch while keeping with the character of the interior. All gauges are reported to be working properly, another important detail for a classic that is meant to be enjoyed. The combination of the brilliant red and white color scheme, coordinating interior, American Racing wheels, Cooper Cobra tires, automatic transmission, and carefully incorporated upgrades makes this 1955 Chevrolet Bel Air an exceptionally appealing example of one of America's most celebrated automobiles. Whether you're searching for a weekend cruiser, show-day classic, or centerpiece for a collection, this Bel Air delivers the unmistakable look and presence that made the 1955 Chevrolet a legend.
