Dealer notes

If you are searching for a reliable, stylish, and highly capable midsize pickup, this 2008 Ford Ranger 2WD 4dr SuperCab 126" Sport is an exceptional choice. Dressed in a commanding Dark Shadow Grey Metallic exterior, this truck blends rugged utility with a sleek, athletic stance that stands out on the road. Inside, the spacious SuperCab cabin features a comfortable Medium Dk Flint interior, offering the perfect balance of daily drivability and classic truck heritage for buyers who demand both form and function. Under the hood, this 2008 Ford Ranger is powered by a robust and dependable 4.0L SOHC V6 engine, delivering the strong acceleration and confident power that truck buyers expect. Paired with a rear-wheel-drive (2WD) drivetrain and a 3.55 axle ratio, this Sport model offers a responsive ride while maintaining excellent utility for hauling and daily commuting. Whether you are navigating city streets or loading up the bed for a weekend project, this powertrain configuration is engineered to deliver consistent, worry-free performance. Adding to its everyday convenience and style, this vehicle comes equipped with practical features including a sliding rear window for quick cabin ventilation and premium privacy glass that enhances passenger comfort. Additionally, this truck is equipped with California emissions equipment, ensuring it meets strict environmental standards. Combining legendary durability, a distinct Sport trim appearance, and a highly functional cabin layout, this 2008 Ford Ranger SuperCab is ready to serve as your next dependable partner on the road.
