Dealer notes

This hard to find gem is completely unmodified and was adult owned and maintained. Service was always done on time. The 2006 Nissan Altima 3.5 SE-R is a sporty and performance-focused sedan that delivers strong V6 power, aggressive styling, and everyday practicality. Powered by a 3.5-liter V6 engine producing 260 horsepower and 251 lb-ft of torque, this Altima offers quick acceleration and a responsive driving experience while remaining comfortable enough for daily use. Paired with an automatic transmission and front-wheel drive, it provides smooth performance for city driving and highway cruising alike. With 143,746 miles, this SE-R continues to offer the strong performance and distinctive character that made it one of the more exciting Altima models of its era. The SE-R trim gives this Altima a more athletic personality than the standard sedan, with sport-inspired styling and a driver-focused feel. Its four-door layout provides the convenience and passenger space of a midsize sedan while still delivering a more engaging driving experience. Combining V6 performance, practical everyday usability, and the added appeal of the SE-R trim, the 2006 Nissan Altima 3.5 SE-R is a distinctive choice for drivers looking for a sporty sedan with plenty of power and personality
