Dealer notes

Offered for sale is this 2022 Ford Bronco Badlands Advanced, finished in White over an Onyx black leather and suede interior with removable top, powered by a twin-turbocharged 3.0-liter V6 engine, running power to all four wheels through a ten-speed automatic transmission, with 87,174 miles on the odometer as of this writing. The latest full-size Ford Bronco was a long-overdue and faithful resurrection of the iconic Bronco badge. With its body-on-frame and live rear axle setup, it's a great platform to build a truly capable offroad vehicle. The Wrangler had occupied this niche all by itself for far too long, and Ford's execution of the new Bronco has been a consistent success since its introduction. It's not hard to understand why, as the company went to great lengths to ensure capability but also versatility - removing the roof, doors, and even folding the windshield are relatively simple tasks. Being the ideal choice for both a snowy winter offroad excursion or reaching the favorite summer beach spot with everything tucked away is a compelling ownership proposition. This example is in excellent condition, and very well equipped, with maintenance up to date. Notable options include the Sasquatch package with 17" beadlock capable wheels, heated seats with dual zone climate control, Lux pack with adaptive cruise and heated steering wheel, 12" center stack touch screen, carplay, wireless charging pad, and GPS navigation.
