Dealer notes

Here's a stunning 1957 Ford Ranch Wagon Street Rod finished in a teal hue with complementing purple and red flame graphics. It has a custom saddle-brown leather interior and a lowered stance riding on 18" Rocket wheels. A lot of money went into this build with the intention of winning shows and driving anywhere. The body is straight with a beautiful paint finish. Some imperfections are visible in the photos. The stainless and brightwork are also in solid shape with only minor flaws. Under the hood sits a 5.0L Ford Coyote V8 paired with a 5-speed manual transmission. The chassis is set up with power-assisted front discs and rear drums, power steering, and suspension upgrades. On the road, this Ranch Wagon is a fantastic cruiser, delivering plenty of power. You'll even appreciate the distinctive note coming from the exhaust, along with the power cutouts. The cabin looks every bit as sharp as the exterior, featuring comfortable leather front buckets, rear folding bench, a custom headliner, a modern center console, a multimedia sound system with a rear backup camera, subwoofer, Vintage Air, and much more. The dash keeps its original look while housing modern gauges. This '57 Ford Ranch Wagon is a genuine powerhouse on the road, blending classic style with modern engineering and tech that makes this build even more fun to own and enjoy.
