Dealer notes

2007 Jeep Wrangler JK Rubicon 4x4 "95,000 Miles" This is a fully built, no-expense-spared JK Rubicon that has been transformed into an extremely capable trail machine while still maintaining the comfort and drivability needed for everyday use. With an incredible list of premium upgrades, this Jeep is ready for serious off-road adventures right out of the gate. Under the hood, it features a RIPP Supercharger system with a Vortech V3 unit on the 3.8L engine, paired with a mild RIPP tune. The supercharger installation has only approximately 2,000 miles on it, adding a significant performance upgrade while keeping the Jeep enjoyable and reliable. The drivetrain has been properly upgraded for the larger tires with 5.13 differential gears, speedometer correction, front and rear Dana 44 "E" lockers, and upgraded moly axles. Custom Tom Wood's driveshafts help handle the additional strength and travel requirements of this build. The suspension setup is a serious off-road package featuring a Metalcloak 5.5-inch long arm suspension system with 6-Pack shocks, TerraFlex ball joints, Metalcloak rock sliders, Metalcloak fenders and inner fenders, integrated skid plate armor, and Metalcloak differential covers. Steering has been upgraded with a PSC steering system, making this Jeep incredibly easy to maneuver despite the size and capability of the build. Braking has also been addressed with Dynatrac ProGrip brakes, rotors, and calipers, providing excellent stopping power. The exterior is built for adventure with a Warn front bumper, Warn Zeon 8 winch with remote, Warn rear bumper with full-size spare tire carrier, and rugged protection throughout. It rides on 37-inch Pro Comp MT2 tires mounted on KMC XD Machete beadlock wheels, giving it the perfect combination of aggressive looks and off-road performance. Additional lighting includes Rigid cube lights, LED light bar, halo headlights, and LED rear lighting. For added versatility, this Rubicon features a Bestop Trektop NX soft top with doors, Rhino Rack rooftop rack, and a Raptor-lined hardtop for durability and a unique finish. The Rock Hard sport cage and structural upgrades add another level of protection and confidence when tackling difficult terrain. Inside, the Jeep has been upgraded with a premium Focal and JL Audio sound system with subwoofer, wireless Apple CarPlay, and backup camera, blending modern technology with classic Jeep capability. This 2007 JK Rubicon is an impressive combination of performance, protection, and comfort. With the supercharged engine, fully upgraded suspension, lockers, armor, and premium components throughout, this is a turn-key Jeep build ready for trails, adventures, and everything in between.
