Dealer notes

Vehicle Located in MA - Zoom Classic Cars presents fully restored 1949 Buick Super 8 Dynaflow Woody Estate Wagon. The Rare Model 59 Super 8 Woody Estate Wagon is 1 of 1,830 produced in 1949 and represents less than 5% of total Buick production in that year. It was one of the most expensive and rarest body styles offered in 1949 and was the last wood-bodied station wagon mass-produced in the United States. For fans of genuine wood-bodied wagons, the 1949 Buick is the absolute pinnacle of desirability. Built at the Ionia assembly plant, this Buick features the Valve-in-Head 238CI Fireball Dynaflash Straight Eight Engine coupled to the Dynaflow Drive Automatic Transmission. Other features includes beautiful mahogany and ash veneers where they were complemented with fine leather upholstery, Foamtex seat cushions, a flexible spoke steering wheel, anti-glare rearview mirror, an electric in-dash clock, rear cabin light and luxurious interior carpeting. Factory features included back-up lights, turn signals, windshield washers, stone guards, fender skirts and wide whitewall tires matched with full-size chromed wheel covers with Buick insignia. Two new features would come to symbolize the Estate Wagon brand: sweeping chromed body-side moldings and Iconic VentiPorts with the Super having 3 on each of the front fenders. Car is in overall excellent condition with all of the body panels lining up nicely and all of the wood beautifully restored. All of the chrome, trim and badging is intact and in excellent condition. Interior is very clean featuring red leather bench seating with carpeting on the rear flooring and a rubber mat in the front. Cargo area is very clean and carpeted with compartment that opens up revealing a full spare tire and jack components. Undercarriage is very clean with solid frame and suspension. Single exhaust exiting the rear with custom Chrome tip. Asking Price is for the Buick Wagon only. For buyers interested in the Chris Craft Boat, it can be combined with the Buick as a Package deal. Please call for more information. The 1948 Chris Craft 17' Deluxe Runabout has also been fully restored and in magnificent overall condition with gorgeous mahogany decks and powerful engine. Features a rebuilt Chris Craft Marine 6 cylinder engine and fully restored passenger compartment with red vinyl seating. Included is a 1998 LE4000 Trailer in excellent condition. Car, boat and trailer are located in MA with each having clean titles in the owner's name. Always garaged and meticulously maintained.
