Dealer notes

Finished in a stealthy Black, this 2022 GMC Sierra 2500HD is the kind of used truck that looks ready for work on Friday and a dirt-road escape on Saturday. With 4WD and a confident off-road setup, its built to keep its composure when the pavement ends helped along by protective underbody skid plates, hill-descent control for steep grades, and a sure-footed rear differential that likes to dig in and go. Hooking up a trailer feels less like guesswork and more like a well-practiced routine, thanks to smart hitch guidance and an in-vehicle trailering app that helps you stay organized with reminders and diagnostics. And when the load is on, the integrated trailer brake controller is there to help everything feel composed and predictable. Step into the Black leather interior and you'll find a cabin that's both tough and comfortable supportive power-adjustable seating, memory settings, and a leather-wrapped steering wheel make long days easier. Clever storage, bed steps, and a versatile multi-function tailgate add the kind of everyday convenience you'll appreciate every time you load up. Best of all, a CARFAX report is available, so you can shop with extra confidence.
